

Rusk's Trip Has No Link With Summit Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials expressed strong doubt today that Secretary of State Dean Rusk's forthcoming talks in Moscow will become a prelude to a summit conference.

They said Rusk will carry a letter from President Kennedy to Soviet Premier Khrushchev, but it is expected to be only a reply to the message Khrushchev sent to Kennedy via Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman.

Khrushchev's letter, high-ranking sources said, expressed his satisfaction with the agreement to ban all nuclear tests except underground but did not offer any suggestions on further steps to ease East-West tensions.

Kennedy's reply is expected to express similar feelings without attempting to break new ground.

State Department officials denied any thought is being given to a meeting between Kennedy, Khrushchev and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Great Britain.

That possibility was mentioned by Lord Hailsham, British negotiator at the test ban treaty talks in Moscow.

Officials here pointed to Kennedy's remark at a press conference July 17 that "there is no evidence that a summit is indicated or needed."

Also, U.S. officials don't believe Khrushchev himself wants a summit meeting now.

Rusk is scheduled to leave Saturday for Moscow to sign the U.S.-Soviet-British partial test ban treaty and to check on the way the Kremlin wind is blowing.

While in the Soviet capital, Rusk intends to continue exploratory talks Harriman began on proposals Khrushchev made in a Kremlin speech July 19.

Among other things, the Soviet leader suggested tensions could be eased by a nonaggression pact between the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Communist Warsaw Pact countries.

U.S. officials stressed that Rusk has no mandate to negotiate for NATO.

New Plan Offered By Brotherhoods In Rail Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators working on ways to settle the rail-labor dispute say they are encouraged by a union official's announcement that the brotherhoods have submitted a new proposal to the railroads.

L. J. Wagner, president of the Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen, told the Senate Commerce Committee the new offer was made Saturday in the reopened bargaining session.

He said no reply had come from the carriers and said he didn't believe they had had time to present one.

However, Daniel P. Loomis, president of the Association of American Railroads, was at the hearing and when asked by a reporter about Wagner's statement, he said: "I have heard about nothing."

The railroads and unions resumed Labor Department bargaining sessions Friday under prodding from legislators who expressed fears that Congress might set a dangerous pattern by stepping into the dispute.

Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., the Commerce Committee's acting chairman, has said he doesn't think the two sides are too far apart to reach an agreement through bargaining.

However, Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz has cautioned he sees no chance of a settlement except through legislation.

To give Congress a chance to act, the railroads have postponed again until Aug. 29 the new work rules which will eliminate thousands of jobs and which the unions have said will trigger a nationwide strike.

Representatives of the five operating unions continued their testimony Monday in opposition to President Kennedy's recommendations for averting a strike by turning the dispute over to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The Senate Commerce Committee stayed in session until almost 10 p.m. to hear the last union spokesman—Neil P. Speirs, president of the switchmen.

He said he will "resist all efforts to turn over the economic destiny of these men to a third party who has no understanding of the issues, the problems, and the difficulties which we face."

The chief justice, Lord Parker, reversed the conviction on the basis of new evidence, including a 10-hour tape recording made by Christine while she was high on marijuana.

The chief justice did not make the new evidence public.

Gordon, 31, a Jamaican jazz singer, was freed after a nine-minute hearing. Lord Parker said his court had no jurisdiction to retry the case on fresh evidence, and "in many ways unfortunate, there is no provision for a new trial in such cases."

"But the court certainly thinks that if this evidence had been called," the chief justice continued, "the jury may have had a doubt in the matter."

Gordon was convicted last month of beating up Christine on April 18.

Seven weeks later she became the center of Britain's biggest political scandal of the century, when War Minister John D. Profumo resigned from the House of Commons and from Prime Minister Macmillan's government. He confessed he had lied to Commons in denying having had an affair with Christine.

'Dangerous' Men Hunted After 2 Detroit Holdups

DETROIT (AP)—Two holdups, one in Detroit and the other in suburban Grosse Pointe Park, have intensified a police search for three "heavily-armed and dangerous" men.

Detroit police identified the men as Terrance Brandt, 21; Kenneth Wesley, 21, and Patrick Gregory, 28. Police said all three were believed of Grand Rapids.

Police believe they are traveling with two women. They identified them as Jeanne Patrick, 24, and Shirley Blakely, 17, both of Jackson.

Police said the men have been named in warrants issued here and at Grand Rapids for armed robberies, as well as in federal warrants for unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

Panel Will Hear Scholle's Suit On Districting

PORT HURON (AP)—A federal court panel of three judges is going ahead with a hearing of labor leader August Scholle's challenge of reapportionment provisions of Michigan's new constitution. A date remains to be set.

The three judges Monday unanimously rejected motions to dismiss or delay the suit.

The state's motion to dismiss, made by Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley, was rejected as "not well taken" in the words of Judge Clifford O'Sullivan.

"Apportionment," Judge O'Sullivan said, "is a genuine controversy." A prompt decision should be made.

Kelley had contended that no one's rights could be violated until the new constitution goes into effect next Jan. 1. He said the suit was therefore premature.

The rejected motion to delay the hearing—on grounds that the U.S. Supreme Court may rule by October on Scholle's earlier 1959 suit—was made by Republican State Sens. John W. Fitzgerald of Grand Rapids, Paul C. Younger of East Lansing, and Frank D. Beadle of St. Clair.

Scholle, president of the Michigan AFL-CIO, contends apportionment should be based on a principle of "one man, one vote."

Both his suits challenge the State Senate's apportionment. His 1959 suit bears on the present constitution. The other, filed June 21, has to do with the new constitution.

Scholle says the "equal protection" assurance of the Federal Constitution's 14th Amendment is violated. The new constitution's apportionment law is based 80 per cent on population and 20 per cent on area.

Sitting with Judge O'Sullivan in the case are Judges Fred W. Kaess and Stephen J. Roth.

Negro Children Block Trucks

NEW YORK (AP)—Negro children sat down in the path of work trucks today and young demonstrators threw themselves onto a crane's load at a Brooklyn hospital construction site.

The demonstrations demand the hiring of more Negroes and Puerto Ricans in publicly financed construction. They have resulted in 19 arrests at the Downtown Medical Center project and three at a similar project at an apartment construction site in Queens.

In addition, police took 12 children from the Brooklyn site, listing the names of those over 7 for juvenile authorities and then releasing all.

Seven young pickets took police by surprise as a crane prepared to unload cement blocks across a fence from a truck in the street. They scrambled onto the truck and lay on a loaded pallet, forcing the work to stop.

Police removed them bodily, kicking and screaming as the group, three young women in the group, were carried to a patrol wagon.

Bank Holdup Man Is Caught Under Porch In Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—A gunman robbed a branch of the National Bank of Detroit of $902 Monday, and 35 minutes later the FBI reported he had been captured while hiding under the porch of a house.

The FBI identified the man as Robert A. Gavin, 27, of Detroit. The FBI said Gavin entered the crowded bank at 10:30 a.m. and waited in line before attempting the holdup. Agents said he told a teller, "Hand me your 50's," but accepted a batch of singles, fives and tens, then bolted for a door.

North Korean Raiders Killed By U.S. Patrols

Moscow Treaty Signing Won't Be Bipartisan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Republican leaders apparently have killed any chance for a bipartisan display at the formal signing of the limited nuclear test ban treaty in Moscow.

Minority leader Everett M. Dirksen said he had not been invited to accompany Secretary of State Dean Rusk on the ceremonial trip and would not go if he were. Rusk visited with the Illinois Senator briefly Monday but Dirksen said they did not discuss the matter.

"I feel that I should not go even if I were invited because acceptance would leave the implication that I approved of the treaty without knowing fully the effects it will have," Dirksen said.

Dirksen told an informal news conference Monday that the White House suggested but he rejected a conference of leaders of both parties before President Kennedy's Friday night television-radio speech on the treaty, which would ban all except underground tests.

Sen. Burke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee and senior Republican on the Foreign Relations Committee, said in a separate interview he could not accept an invitation to go to Moscow for the signing ceremony, expected to be held next week.

"I think it would be highly improper for me to go in view of the fact that I have not decided whether I will support or oppose this treaty," he said. "I intend to listen to all the evidence on both sides before coming to a conclusion."

GOP Policy Committee members arranged to discuss the treaty but there was no indication that they would take a stand on it. Dirksen said he had made no effort to poll Republican senators and had no idea how they would vote on the agreement worked out by U.S., British and Soviet representatives. Treaty backers are wooing GOP support because ratification would require approval of two-thirds of those voting.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, assistant Democratic leader, predicted the treaty will be ratified.

Humphrey said congressional mail indicates widespread popular support for it. And the White House reported Monday that more than 1,000 telegrams received since Kennedy's Friday night address and ran more than 12-1 in support of his position.

Prison Term Given In Boat Disaster

CAIRO (AP)—The owner of the Nile ferry boat which sank and drowned 214 people last May 4 was convicted of negligence Monday and sentenced to seven years in prison. Three crew members were sentenced to four years.

Owner Fawzy Tarous was accused of allowing the boat to reach a "deplorable state of disrepair." He was not aboard at the time of the accident.

Fuselage Found Where 63 Died In Arabian Sea

BOMBAY, India (AP)—Indian navy ships today were reported to have found the submerged fuselage of the United Arab Airlines Comet which crashed in the Arabian Sea Sunday with the loss of 63 lives.

A mass of wreckage was located at the bottom of the ocean bed, west of Bombay. It probably will be salvaged later this week.

Three more bodies were brought from the sea, bringing the total to eight so far recovered. The plane was en route from Tokyo to Cairo when it plunged into the sea about 1 a.m. Sunday as it was coming in to land at Bombay.

Among the victims were 23 Filipino Boy Scouts en route to a world jamboree in Athens.

Peace Pipe Given To Khrushchev By Orville Freeman

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev received an Indian pipe of peace today from U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman. Khrushchev said he didn't smoke but accepted it as a symbol.

Freeman, winding up a three-week tour of Soviet agricultural areas, presented the two-foot pipe in a conference room next to the premier's Kremlin office.

The secretary was accompanied by his wife, members of his party and U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler.

Dynamite Levels Earthquake Ruins In Yugoslav City

SKOPJE, Yugoslavia (AP)—A man breathing.

The count of dead stood near 1,000. Hundreds more bodies were believed buried in acres of ruins. Two of the bodies recovered were presumed to be those of U.S. Air Force Sgt. Harold R. Stacy of Gouverneur, N.Y., and his German wife.

Other Americans known to have been in Skopje escaped.

Under government orders, 150,000 residents had left by Monday night.

Crews labored in an almost unbearable stench of the dead and broken sewers. A heat wave and a water shortage compounded the atmosphere of nausea.

The government predicted that once a fleet of trucks, tractors, bulldozers and earthmovers rolled into high gear, the city would be cleared in a matter of days.

Officials discovered that hundreds of hastily dug graves were too shallow. Hygiene teams were ordered to spray them with disinfectant while deeper trenches were dug for mass burials.

Other workmen set up facilities to make life less terrible for those who must see to Skopje's end.

Power was restored in some parts of the city. Shower trucks provided limited bathing facilities.

A new tremor flickered under the ruins of the city during the night. It brought down the weakened bulk of a two-story building.

While the tragedy lingered over Skopje, an earthquake Monday struck a village in southern Iran, killing five persons and injuring eight. All 352 houses in the village of Gahgum were destroyed or damaged, official Iranian sources reported.

The first tremors were felt shortly after noon, and most of the people were out of doors.

Young Man Dies On Wedding Day

BLOOMFIELD HILLS (AP)—Less than four hours before Raymond F. Zehnder Jr., 21, was to be married Monday he was killed in a car smashup.

His bride-to-be, Betty Meggs, 22, was badly hurt.

Their car, driven by Zehnder, hit a tree on Long Lake Road near the Zehnder home.

The two were running last minute errands before their wedding at Redeemer Lutheran Church in nearby Birmingham.

Police said Zehnder apparently swerved to avoid another car making a U-turn and lost control.

Zehnder, an apprentice plumber, and Miss Meggs, a nurse at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Pontiac, had intended to drive to Forest City, Ark., on a week's honeymoon and meet Betty's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Meggs.

Friends said Betty's father had been ill and her parents could not attend her wedding.

Russian Nuclear Blast Cripples U.S. Satellite

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A Russian nuclear blast detonated in space during the Soviet test series that ended last Dec. 24 crippled the electrical equipment of an American space satellite, the St. Louis Globe-Democrat said today.

In a copyrighted story from its Washington bureau, the Globe-Democrat said the satellite is believed still orbiting the earth, but its communications and control equipment ceased to function after the Russian test.

The effects of the blast have never been made public by United States authorities, the paper said, but are known to the Russians through their monitoring of American satellites.

The Russians presumably now know a great deal about how to knock out any American satellites, whether sent up for photographic work or weather observation or for other purposes, the Globe-Democrat said.

The paper said that Russian knowledge of how to paralyze a satellite without having to hit it directly also would give them a head start toward designing some type of protection for their own satellites.

Clash Occurs South Of Korea Armistice Zone

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Strengthened U.S. Army patrols backed by South Korean national police, killed four heavily armed North Korean Communist infiltrators today in a hunt for Red raiders who have slain three U.S. soldiers in two days.

Looking "under every bush," in the words of one U.S. commanding officer, the forces hunted down infiltrating saboteurs on missions close by the headquarters of the U.S. 4th Cavalry Regiment command post, six miles south of the Korean armistice zone.

The fighting was the farthest south of the buffer area since the Korean armistice was signed July 27, 1953.

Jeep Ambushed

The action was set off Monday by the ambush of a U.S. jeep in which two U.S. soldiers were killed and a third wounded, below the Korean armistice line. With vigilance renewed and patrols strengthened, the hunt began for those attackers.

As troops and police scoured the area, another American soldier and a South Korean police officer engaged in another clash that cost their lives in the grassy bottomland south of the Injin River, near Dangdong-iri.

In Washington the Army identified Cpl. George F. Laron Jr. of Davison, Mich., as the soldier killed today.

Laron, 24, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Laron Jr. of Davison.

Col. George Creel, the U.N. Command spokesman who confirmed the four North Koreans were dead, said they could be part of the same raiding patrol which machine-gunned a 1st Cavalry Division jeep Monday, killing two U.S. soldiers and wounding another on their way to guard duty in the demilitarized zone.

On Spy Mission

There also was speculation the four North Koreans killed today were agents bound on a mission of violent espionage. They carried automatic weapons and hand grenades.

The first North Koreans were gunned down about 9 a.m. It was in this clash that a soldier of the U.S. 7th Infantry Division and the Korean police officer died.

At about 4 p.m., the other two North Koreans were surrounded in deep grass west of the road to Panmunjom and about a mile south of Freedom Bridge.

While an American Army helicopter hovered overhead, about 50 national policemen and half a dozen U.S. soldiers closed in. Two hand grenade explosions were heard, leading to speculation the agents took their own lives.

Associated Press photographer Kim Chong-ik and reporter An Mu-hun arrived on the spot shortly before the shooting started this afternoon. They interviewed the husband of an old woman who was held captive by the four Communists.

Woman Grabbed

Yang Chon Soon, 52, was out collecting mushrooms in the bushy area where the grass is head high. Suddenly someone grabbed her by the wrist and demanded: "Why are you here? This is a firing range. Do you have anyone working in the government?"

The woman was held about 20 minutes and let go. Her daughter ran to the police box to report the incident to police, but policemen were out searching for the North Koreans.

The North Koreans came to the area three days ago, they told the frightened woman.

Dangdong-iri is about two miles northwest of Musan-ni, on the road to Panmunjom. It is one mile short of Freedom Bridge, where American prisoners of war returned after the armistice agreement was signed 10 years and three days ago.

The North Koreans were hunted down 400 yards from the headquarters of the 4th Cavalry Regiment command post, which may have been their objective.

German On Trial As Spy For Reds

KARLSRUHE, Germany (AP)—Another former member of the West German intelligence service is on trial for spying.

Bodo Schoenrock, 38, testified Monday he received between $500 and $1,125 a month for supplying military and political secrets to Communist Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Big State Fair To Open Aug. 13

The U.P. State Fair dates this year are Aug. 13-18, earliest on record and one day earlier than last year's exposition.

Ray LaPorte, secretary-manager of the fair, said the fair dates are established by the Board of Managers after consideration of a number of factors. For example, the date of the Michigan State Fair at Detroit is a factor, since many of the judges, Michigan Department of Administration officials, auditors, and so forth work both the fair at Escanaba and that at Detroit.

"Many of the exhibits, the midway shows, entertainment and other features that will be in Escanaba are also scheduled for the fair at Detroit," LaPorte pointed out.

Next year the U.P. State Fair will be one week later because of Labor Day's relation to the calendar.

Duck Banding Is Underway In North

The "world's biggest duck hunt" is underway now in the prairie pothole country of the United States and Canada.

Tools of the hunt will include nets, traps, cars, boats, planes, retrieving dogs and gallons of bug dope. More than 300 wildlife specialists from state and federal wildlife agencies in the U. S. and their counterparts in Canada will be participating in the 12-week operation.

Dozens of three to six-man crews are now beating out pothole vegetation from Nebraska to the northern provinces, driving young ducks into nets and traps where they can be banded. Banding consists of attaching small metal leg bands to the young ducks. As each band is attached, the number of the band is recorded, along with the date and location of the banding and the species and approximate age of the young duck.

This information, together with reports from hunters who bag banded birds, goes into the year-around waterfowl management program of the two nations.

Pellet Ore Grows In Volume; Now 100 Cars Daily

The volume of pellet ore handled by the Chicago & North Western Railway at its Escanaba dock is growing, now averages about 100 cars a day, will total about 800,000 tons for this season, and is expected to increase to 1,250,000 tons in 1964.

L. A. McMillan, C&NW dock agent, said that had it not been for the pellet ore the total receipts this year would be below that of a year ago.

The pellets are coming from the Groveland plant of the Hanna Mining Co. at Randville, located 14 miles northeast of Iron Mountain. Shipping to Escanaba via C&NW began last spring and now totals 325,000 tons so far, with some 800,000 tons expected to be received before the season ends.

"We're getting more ore now from Randville than when the season opened, since that is a new operation and production was just getting under way. Now we are receiving about 100 cars of pelletized ore a day," McMillan said.

Pellets In Demand
"Most of this ore is going to two big receivers, McLouth Steel at Trenton, Mich., and quite a bit to the Ford Motor Co. With continuing production at Randville right through the winter months there will be stockpiling and the total we can expect to receive at Escanaba is about one and one-quarter million tons."

The pellet ore from Randville is offsetting the drop in production from deep mines that are down in the Peninsula. Pellet ore, however, is keeping the tonnage up and ore shipping business here is on the whole very good, said McMillan.

The pelletized ore, product of beneficiating low grade ores into pellets with 62 per cent iron content, is of constant quality. The raw ores have 51 per cent iron content.

"There's a big demand for the pellet ore at the furnaces," said McMillan. To meet this demand there are more beneficiation plants being built, the latest that at Palmer on the Marquette range. It will be bigger than the plant at Randville, will be completed this fall, but McMillan does not know if the pellets will come to Escanaba for shipment.

Without Moisture
The North Western Railway has plans for the construction of a new dock of the conveyor type, which will be built when there is the need for it. Meanwhile the pellet ore is being handled through the conventional pocket type dock at Escanaba without difficulty, McMillan said.

Late season shipping of iron ore will now be possible without the difficulty and high cost of thawing frozen ore, since the pelletized ore is without moisture when it comes from the plant. Other ores contain 5 to 8 per cent moisture, causing them to freeze tight in the cars in cold weather. Then the ore must be loosened by thawing before the load can be dumped into the dock pockets and thence into the boats.

Pellet ore would freeze in the cars only if it was rained or snowed upon. "If we had to move some tonnage, in the late season we could ship pellet ore without the freezing problem we encounter with other ore," McMillan said.

K. I. Sawyer Passes ORI With Flying Colors

MARQUETTE — K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base's 410 Bombardment Wing (SAC) has passed its Operational Readiness Inspection (ORI) with outstanding results.

The inspection was given by the Second Air Force inspector general team of the Strategic Air Command.

The "no-notice" inspection included flying by air crews of the 644th Bombardment Squadron and the 46th Air Refueling Squadron as well as a general overall management compliance inspection of all units and agencies within the wing.

In the words of Col. William T. Cumiskey, deputy inspector general for Second Air Force, who headed the team of inspectors, the 410th Bombardment Wing "passed the ORI with an outstanding rating."

Fish Bite Good During Eclipse

By BOB VOGES
Associated Press Outdoor Writer
GAYLORD (AP)—I've got an urgent fishing date with a certain lake in Otsego County in 1970.

I'd also like to hit it again in the year 2017 — but might not be around to make that trip.

The years aren't picked by whim — they are the dates when the next two eclipses of the sun will be visible in Michigan.

The reason — I enjoyed some of the best fishing of the summer on that Otsego County lake during the recent eclipse.

The lake contains some good Northern Pike but fishermen just weren't getting them during the heat of mid-July.

On July 20, I brought in three good pike during the few hours just before, during and after the eclipse of the sun.

They were taken on live frogs, fished deep by trolling on a six pound test line with a wire leader. The same method, same place, used another half dozen times before and after that one spurt of luck, netted only one good pike.

John Alden Knight, in his book "The Modern Angler," presents the case for the solar theory that could account for it.

His claim that the moon and the sun create inland tides as well as ocean tides and cause the fish to feed the best at certain times of the day, all other conditions being equal.

The book cites one trout fisherman as declaring that the best fly fishing for brown trout he ever experienced came during an eclipse of the sun on Aug. 31, 1932. Bass fishermen gave similar reports for the day.

Solar tables have become popular and some fishermen swear by them, concentrating their fishing activity during the times of the maximum and minimum tidal pull of the sun and the moon.

A. B. Cook, head of the fish division of the state Conservation Department, said the department has made some study of the theory but has come to no overall conclusions.

New TV Show To Get Premier At Grand Hotel
Hugh Downs, TV's most famous conversationalist, has projected his inventive talent into a new field — a game for home play geared to raise conversation to a lively art in every American family.

Chit Chat, the Hugh Downs' game of conversation, will make its world premier, Wednesday night, July 31, at the Grand Hotel, Mackinac Island, with Downs as master of ceremonies.

Reversing the usual procedure of developing a hit game, such as Concentration, from a TV show format, Downs' Chit Chat is being published by Milton Bradley for home distribution this winter and will bow as a TV show later.

U. P. State Fair queen candidate from Perronville is Rose Marie Shiverski, 20, the daughter of Steve Shiverski. She is a graduate of Bark River-Harris High School and is now a junior at Northern Michigan University. Miss Shiverski is sponsored by the Bark River American Legion Post at Miss American Legion.

Holy Land Trip Is Kiwanis Topic

Political, economic and military conditions in Jordan and Israel were discussed at the Escanaba Kiwanis Club meeting Monday by John A. Lemmer, who included the Holy Land in a trip made during the past winter.

The talk was prefaced by the showing of color pictures taken during the tour, including scenes at Nahala village in Israel, which is dedicated to the late Herman Gessner, Escanaba merchant. One picture showed Lemmer and his brother Victor of Ironwood standing at a plaque inscribed with Gessner's name.

Guests at the meeting Monday included Jesse Pomazal of Milwaukee, a former local Kiwanian, and George Rutwisch of East Grand Rapids, formerly of the Escanaba High School faculty, who is a past president of the local Kiwanis Club.

WW2 Ammunition Found Near Raco

SAULT STE. MARIE—The 259 Ordnance Detachment stationed at Kitchel AFB was called out recently to investigate a report that a rusted bazooka shell was discovered in a small lake about two and a half miles southwest of the 37th Air Defense Missile Squadron in Raco.

According to Lt. Frederick D. Peterson, commander of the small Army detachment, SSGT. A. E. Royce noticed the 3.5 Practice Rocket (Bazooka) round on the edge of the lake while picking blueberries and notified the Detachment.

Upon arrival at the lake, the Ordnance men found bommington, fuses for large Navy ammunition, a 4.2 inch mortar round fuse and a British Artillery fuse that dates back to World War II.

"The ammunition was old and worn, but nevertheless," said Lt. Peterson, "they could have been very dangerous."

It is theorized that although these items were found on an abandoned firing range used during World War II, they were not dumped there by the military occupants but by someone who wanted to get rid of them.

List 4-H Winners In U.P. Contests

Eight members of Delta County 4-H Clubs won top honors during Upper Peninsula 4-H Club Week, held at Camp Shaw, Chatham, July 22-26, according to Larry Bradford, 4-H extension agent.

Bradford said the showing for Delta County was quite good. In all about 75 young people participated in the competitions entered by county club members.

Delta County had two blue ribbon winners in the talent contests. They included Henry and Clarence Mroczkowski of Danforth, for their accordion-guitar duet, and Dale Chouinard and Randy Irving, also of Danforth, for a skit they presented on "Crazy" of the Jackie Gleason TV Show. Both acts will be shown during the U.P. State Fair in August.

Sue Sundberg of Ensign walked off with top honors in the demonstration competitions. She demonstrated how to alter slack patterns. As the result of her achievement she will take part in the State 4-H Show to be held in Lansing Aug. 26-30.

The public speaking program award was won by Cynthia Safford, also of Ensign. Her subject, "My Pledge," depicted what the 4-H pledge meant to her. Miss Safford will also be entered in the State show.

During the 4-H Club Week two members were selected, following many interviews, to receive the U.P. Fair awards trip. Both Corrine LaMarche of Rte. 1, Escanaba, and Corrine Thompson of Rte. 1, Cornell, were selected to travel to Washington, D.C. next spring where they will attend a citizenship forum.

The two girls must also put up a booth during the U.P. State Fair with the prime purpose of telling the public their 4-H story.

Hospital
Patients admitted to St. Francis Hospital on Monday included: Arthur Paquin, Rte. 1, Cornell; Peter Thorsen, 819 Michigan Ave., Gladstone; Joseph Wolfe, 1222 Superior Ave., Gladstone; Conrad Johnson, 408 S. 8th St.; John W. Buckabee, 512 Lake Shore Dr., Escanaba; Edward L. Nicholson, 428 S. 11th St.; Donna Anderson, Rte. 1, Gladstone; Jerrold Heyman, Bay Side, N. Y.; Mary J. Michigan Income At All-Time High DETROIT (AP) — Income in Michigan reached an all-time high in the fiscal year that ended June 30, says R. I. Nixon, district director of the Internal Revenue Service.

A record figure of $8.1 billion in internal revenue receipts represents a $1.4 billion increase over the previous year, he said. Corporate taxes showed the largest increase, climbing $790 million, while individual taxes were up $295 million and miscellaneous taxes $34 million.

The only category to fall off was the estate and gift classification, down $280,000.

Rapid River High School's Homecoming Queen Constance Nelson is a candidate for the U. P. State Fair Queen. She is the daughter of the Hjalmer Nelsons of Ensign, is 17 years old, and is sponsored by the Student Council of Rapid River High. She will enter Bay de Noc Community College next fall and is planning a career in home economics.

Lind To Teach At Bay College

Bay de Noc Community College announced today the appointment of an instructor in business administration. He is Samuel C. Lind, a native of Rapid River, who signed a contract confirming his agreement to come to Escanaba.

Lind will be responsible for developing programs of instruction in business administration, as well as teaching courses in this field. In addition he will help develop the college counseling program. He has a master's degree in guidance and counseling from Michigan State University and another master's degree in business and economics from Northern Michigan University. His bachelor's degree was also from Northern Michigan University, with undergraduate work done at the Flint Junior College and at the University of Detroit.

"With two master's degrees and extensive work experience in his field, Mr. Lind is an example of the ideal instructor for the community college," said President Richard Rinehart of the Bay de Noc Community College. "He has the interest and a broad field of education, rather than in specializing, with the flexibility to be useful in several areas, and has a complete understanding of the application of his knowledge that stems from experience in the business world."

Lind has had a variety of experiences after and throughout his college career. He taught in Houghton and at Northern Michigan University. He has been an office supervisor for the Abionk Machine Tool Co., Fenton, Mich., and has worked for the Cyr Bottle Gas Co., in Marquette.

Delta County will be familiar territory for him. He was born in Rapid River and his mother resides there. He has many acquaintances and relatives in this area. His wife is the former Rosemary Lehman of Hampshire, Ill., and they have three children.

He was in the Marine Corps for four years and is a member of the honorary academic fraternity, Kappa Delta Phi.

Women's Interest In Forest Served By Lady Specialist

The once familiar expression, "a tobacco-chewing old forester," won't do at all in describing the new order of things in the woodlands.

For instance, a personable young woman, Miss Emma Kurelich of Milwaukee is touring the Hiawatha National Forest this week to familiarize herself with its resources. She's doing the same with other forests of the Region 9 which serves 9 states in the Midwest.

Miss Kurelich — shades of Dan'l Boone, Natty Bumppo and Paul Bunyan — is an information specialist in charge of women's activities for the U.S. Forest Service at its regional headquarters at Milwaukee. Her very office is an indication of the changes in the forests and exemplification of the L.S. Forest Service's dedication to multiple use of the federal forests.

Women and women's organizations are increasingly interested in the nation's forests, says Miss Kurelich. Many forest plantations have been sponsored by women's clubs and in Illinois women's organizations sponsored forest nature trails and helped finance them.

Conservation education has an enlarged place in women's club programming. Women are interested in natural resources and in education of children for the wise use of these resources.

"Many clubs," said Miss Kurelich, "want to add conservation subjects to their fine arts and other interests, but don't know just where to go so we help them. We have several new publications including 'Your Club Can Open the Door To Conservation Education,' and 'How To Hold A Good Conservation Meeting,' and others."

"Many women's groups have gone far beyond a casual interest in conservation education and are taking part in action programs on conservation problems. Wisconsin women, for instance, are working on the problem of detergent pollution of public waters and seeking legislation to require soluble detergents. Europe already has legislation to curb this peril to fish and pure waters."

Miss Kurelich is a native of Colorado and has spent much of her life in California.

Two Rescued As Sloop Capsizes

Two Escanaba young men were taken from the rough water of Little Bay de Noc on the north shore of Sand Point about 5 p. m. Monday when the 17-foot sloop in which they were sailing overturned.

They are John Bissell, 21, of 520 Lake Shore Drive, and Richard Paler, 22 of 832 Sheridan Road. The boat is owned by Paul Bissell. They were in the water about 20 minutes.

Escanaba police and an officer of the sheriff's department approached the capsized sloop in a small boat. A larger boat whose name was not reported by the officers came up ahead of them to make the rescue and take the sloop in tow.

Briefly Told

Amvets Post 123 will meet Thursday night at 8 p. m. in the club rooms at 928 Stephenson.

Traffic court summonses have been issued by Escanaba police to Harold J. LaLonde, 1214 Ludington St., failing to stop in the assured clear distance; Phyllis C. Duncan, 1213 3rd Ave. N., no operator's license and failing to yield the right of way; Lois Mae Godfrey, 309 Wisconsin Ave., Gladstone, defective tail light; Cecil W. Spieth, Escanaba Rte. 1, speeding.

Twenty-three qualified applicants will take an Escanaba Civil Service examination for fire fighter to be given in the State Office Building Saturday morning by Milton Embs, city administrative assistant and John DeMay of the Michigan Employment Service. There is one vacancy to fill on the fire department.

Customers of Ford River Township's water utility will meet tonight at 7:30 at the township hall in another of a series of assemblies to discuss the utility's problems. They have been enlarged and complicated, says Supervisor Phil Miron by current road work of the State Highway Department on M 35 which affects the township's system of water piping. Miron said that the highway work is extending pavement over shutoffs so that it will be impossible to drain pipes serving summer cottages and that culverts and shutoffs have been bulldozed in the grading work.

Sherwood Trotter, supervisor of the Hiawatha National Forest, describes the big federal property to Miss Emma Kurelich of the Milwaukee headquarters office of Region 9 of the U. S. Forest Service. She is spending this week touring the Hiawatha Forest as an information specialist in charge of women's activities for the Forest Service. (Daily Press Photo)

Banks Condition Reveals Uptrend

Measured by the resources of federally insured banks in Indiana, Michigan, and Wisconsin, which comprise the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.'s 7th District, the economy of the three-state area, which earlier this year rested on a plateau, now reveals a dominant upward trend, William T. Hammill, district supervising examiner, reports.

FDIC insures 1,377 banks and 1,197 branches in the three states. A state breakdown of the figures shows Michigan: Deposits of insured banks total $10,434 billion, an increase of $1.107 billion during the year; assets total $11.49 billion, an increase of $1.23 billion.

"Bank resources," Hammill said, "indicate that the economy of the three states in the 7th District earlier this year was on a plateau, with the trend upward; but preliminary indications now reveal that the business for the first half will prove to have been better than originally anticipated. Commercial economy generally has improved, with the exception of appliance and clothing businesses, where intensified competition has reduced earnings and increased operating expenses."

"Industrially, expanded activity, notably in the automobile industry, has reduced unemployment, though there are still some distressed areas. Agriculture is good, though the migration of farm people to cities continues."

Soil Bank Hay Release In Delta Urged In Crisis

EAST LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney has asked the federal government to declare 10 more Michigan Counties as emergency feed areas.

Added to the list were Barry, Calhoun, Ionia, Kalamazoo, Kent, Macomb, St. Clair, St. Joseph, Shiawassee and Delta counties.

The governor forwarded the request to the secretary of agriculture on the request of the State Department of Agriculture and local committees. Similar action as taken earlier for five other counties: Wexford, Lapeer, Gratiot, Grand Traverse and Leelanau.

Joseph L. Heirman, Delta County Extension director, said the request is being made for Delta County due to a shortage of hay, especially on the Gerden Peninsula. The shortage, he said, was caused by the extremely dry conditions during the past several months.

Heirman said that there are presently 5,100 acres of land in Delta County in the soil bank program that could be harvested in the emergency. "These are lands which the government has paid the owners not to farm, but they could be harvested for hay, if the government permitted it."

"If the federal government approves Governor Romney's request the farmers in need of hay would be allowed to purchase stumpage (standing field hay) of the lands in the soil bank program, paying the owners for the acreage. For example, if a farmer in the soil bank program is receiving $5 an acre from the government for the idle land and it is determined the stumpage should be sold for $2.50 an acre, then the farmer would receive $2.50 an acre for the stumpage and the difference from the government to make up the total $5 figure he is to receive under the soil bank program."

"Under this plan the farmers in the soil bank program would not make a hay emergency a profit. They would only get what they normally would under the program, but farmers in need of the hay would be allowed to purchase it from soil bank lands," Heirman said.

The average "lifetime" of a Tiro weather satellite is about four months.

Bather Drowned, Brought Back To Life At Tecumseh

TECUMSEH (AP) — Elmer Abshire, 34, of Tecumseh, a picnicker, was taken from Vineyard Lake Saturday apparently a drowned man.

He had stepped into a drop-off and was under water an estimated two or three minutes before rescuers brought him to the surface. He had no detectable pulse, heart beat, or breath.

Teams of men gave him mouth-to-mouth respiration and external heart massage. Then a rescue squad arrived and applied a resuscitator.

Forty-five minutes later he was breathing. He was taken to a hospital here. His condition later was reported good.

Youth Loses Hand Firing Old Cannon

WEST POINT, Ohio (AP) — Richard J. Lacher Jr., 16, lost his left hand and suffered severe powder burns while firing a cannon Sunday during a mock Civil War battle. His condition was reported as serious.

The accident occurred as Lacher shoved a ramrod down the barrel of a 16-pound brass cannon.

More than 10,000 persons viewed the mock battle commemorating the 100th anniversary of the capture of Confederate Gen. John Hunt Morgan.

Sucker America

When the Sonny Liston-Floyd Patterson bout at Las Vegas was quickly over, Cassius Clay bounced around the ring making ridiculous noises about wanting to fight Liston right then. Even in ancient Rome there were no greater circus.

The Louisville Lip was building the crowd for a fight between him and Liston and making out that it would be a blood match and that if he were put off he would call out the round in which he would exterminate the champion.

Clay is doing his double damndest to put a cash register on the boxing ring and he seems to have latched onto a pretty good idea. It involves regarding American fight fans as dimwitted, but it makes money, and that's the acid test.

The morning after the Liston-Patterson fiasco sports writers tried to get serious comment from Liston about the abilities of Clay as a fighter. "I think Patterson is a better fighter," insisted Liston. Clay wouldn't be caught making a remark like that. Imagine being honest when it affects the fight gate!

And don't think for a moment that Sonny Liston isn't interested in that gate. He isn't fighting for fame or ego gratification or marbles. He's fighting for money, the old folding stuff in big bundles. After the Patterson fight a sports writer asked him if it bothered him to have the fans boo him so heavily during the fight. "Not as long as I get the money," said Liston.

He's like Liberace, laughing all the way to the bank.

The Louisville Lip isn't going to fight Liston until the date stacks up well with Liston's plans, and they're based on money. Cassius will be saying soon that Sonny is afraid to fight him and be making gorilla noises but, the fight fans should know which corner the gorilla will be in. The Lip's vamping aside, fight commentators expect Liston to be around quite a while, because while he started late and hasn't become a top flight boxer, he has a top flight wallop and he doesn't tip over easily. There's no one like him on the horizon.

The fight business is an American phenomenon. Americans have always liked the biff 'em sport and will pay more money to see it than any other people. This isn't only because they have more money but because they part with it more readily for nonsense or mayhem.

The fans seem as slappy as the fighters sometimes, but they have to work hard to compete. Joe Louis earned a fortune in the ring and all he has to show for it is a library of press clippings and a bigger debt for taxes than Finland owed after the war. Floyd Patterson has been so well managed that he's earned and kept the biggest part of $5 million which is better than union scale for a fighter who could hardly stay in a ring with Liston for one round in two fights.

Sugar Ray Robinson was one of our greatest champions, such a consummate boxer that most opponents couldn't put a glove on him unless he was willing, but he's still mixing it and talking a little stumbly now. He had it stacked up once, but it's gone. He's still trying to make a little hay, but the growing season's gone.

Clay's brashness is as calculated and phony as paper flowers but welcome in a business that has been clouded by ring killings, underworld management, mismatches, and an aroma of the jungle. But Clay, for all this kid stuff, is front man for a combination that is out to make millions on his disputed talents as a boxer. (He was clowning in a recent fight in Britain until his venerable opponent landed a lucky one and then Cassius came back to win.)

William Faversham, Clay's leading business consultant, for instance, doesn't want a quick match with Liston for the Lip, who was crying out in the ring at Vegas that he wanted to fight Sonny that very night. Faversham believes that there'll be tax relief in 1964 for artists, fighters, authors and other persons who make a bundle only once in a while and who have to try to live a lifetime on that lucky strike.

Faversham thinks that a third of a possible $10 million gate this year might not be as profitable as 20 per cent next year and take home pay is what counts. The Los Angeles Olympic Club offered a guarantee of $2,750,000 for a Liston-Clay go with the fighters' percentages on top of that and Madison Square Garden has said it'll top it. Higher education is reported directly related to the level of income, but this sort of thing raises doubts about it.

Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — For the long haul, the most important part of President Kennedy's special message to Congress on the railroad crises may be his proposal for handling all technological unemployment.

This would make "automation" the key word in the rail dispute. It would replace "featherbedding" and "compulsory arbitration" as the catch phrases naming the issue up to now.

The President's proposal to turn the case over to the Inter-state Commerce Commission may or may not be accepted by Congress.

If Congress does pass the proposed joint resolution before July 29, and if the ICC can then impose temporary work rules, the trains will be kept running for at least two years.

The hope is that in this period the railroad employers and their on-train employees will settle their differences by collective bargaining. But they already have bargained unsuccessfully on the work rules issue for four years.

Since the dispute is bound to get worse instead of better, there is little reason to believe it will be solved permanently by temporary measures.

If it is not solved, then the whole regumole will have to be gone through again under Railway Labor Act and National Mediation Board proceedings.

So, for the long-range solution, the President proposes tackling all the complicated problems of automation — the displacement of workers by labor-saving technological advances.

He falls back on the old standby of gimmick of bureaucracy. He will appoint a committee to study the problem. This one will be called the Presidential Commission on Automation.

Its job will be to identify and describe the major types of worker displacement likely to occur in the next 10 years. It will recommend what jobs private business and organized labor should be responsible for in solving the problems caused by automation. It will recommend what state and local governments should be responsible for.

And the finally — you guessed it — it will recommend specific administrative steps which the federal government should take to meet its responsibilities "to share the costs and alleviate the losses of automation job-displacement."

All this is to be done "in such a way as to assure both the continued advance of our technology and the continued well-being of our people."

The Presidential Commission on Automation will have until the end of 1964 to study and report. The effect is to sweep the whole problem under the table till after election.

Nobody knows yet who will be on the commission or what it will find to report, but the indicated course is to set up another federal government welfare program.

Surplus people — those displaced by automation — would be handled something like surplus crops. They would be kept at government expense until they can be reprocessed or retrained so somebody can find some use for them.

The extent to which the government would bear the costs of technological displacement for both management and labor is spelled out in an earlier paragraph of the President's message. There are no dollar figures mentioned, but the total would be millions.

"The nation as a whole, which shares in the benefits, also would bear part of the burden imposed by advancing railroad technology," says the President.

To the extent that retraining benefits are now available to railway workers under the Manpower Development and Training Act of 1962, the carriers would be relieved of this obligation, the message points out.

Under the proposal submitted by the carriers to their on-train employees, the employers themselves offer to give displaced workers substantial dismissal pay, preferential rehiring rights, or liberal allowances to retrain for new skills.

But now the government seems to be preparing to relieve railway management of these costs, while promoting more automation.

"The unfairness of placing the entire burden of readjustment costs upon either the carriers or the workers is an additional reason why legislation is particularly appropriate in this case," says the President.

This legislation has not yet been drafted to apply to the railroads, but look out for it when it comes.

It is hoped that a chemically related but safer drug will soon be found to take its place.)

Q—My doctor says my stomach doesn't put out any acid. He has had me taking weak hydrochloric acid for 14 years. Will I have to take it all my life?

A—The most common cause of stomach acid is chronic gastritis. After several years this usually leads to anemia. Anemia even without gastritis may be associated with absence of acid. Cancer of the stomach also causes absence of acid but if you had this

RECOMMENDED READING

We, the citizens of Escanaba, should all read the article by Hal Nelson, editor of the Rockford Morning Star, which was published in last Saturday's Escanaba Daily Press. It isn't because he is my brother that I'm writing this. It's more to get everyone conscious of what we have here in Escanaba and that we should be proud of.

We have gotten in the habit of taking everything for granted because we are so used to the services that we have. Sometimes it takes someone who has lived in another city to wake us up to facts.

I'm thanking Hal for this wonderful compliment to Escanaba and the Escanaba Press for publishing the article so everyone can know what others think of our city.

I talked to many who came to our Centennial and everyone stated that we are lucky to have so many services and facilities in a city of this size. They really were envious of us.

Rotary Club Has Program Based On Rubber Plantation

Richard Fowler, U. S. Forester here who spent two years in Liberia for a rubber company presented a program for Rotary Monday, based on observations in that country, a free democracy.

The plantation of 900,000 acres was owned by Firestone Plantations Co., a subsidiary of Firestone Rubber Co.

Fowler, after receiving an agricultural degree from the University of Rhode Island, was there from November 1957 to December 1959. The plantation, in the Herbel area, employed 178 white persons, including Americans, Dutch, Swiss, French and Spanish, and many natives, some from countries adjacent to Liberia.

The latex, taken from semi-circles cut in bark of the rubber tree was processed in centrifuges so the latex content was raised from 30 per cent, (as drained into cups on trees) to 50 per cent. It was then sold to whoever paid the best price. Europe, particularly France and Germany bought a considerable amount of the latex.

Whites are not permitted to own land in Liberia, Fowler observed. The plantation was leased by the Liberian government to Firestone, which in turn paid 35 per cent of its profits to the Liberian government. A hospital in the area segregated whites and blacks, he said, because the Liberians had completely different food preferences and habits of living.

The slides showed adobe huts and other buildings used as living quarters, natives washing, bathing and taking domestic water from the same stream, rice processing, plantation scenes, and several depicting native dress, children playing, and food handling. Rice and fish are the principal foods. Towns have no grass due to fear of snakes.

Mrs. Fowler was there with her husband. They liked the country, he said, and lived quite economically except for food brought from the states. Frozen steak was $3 a pound, hot dogs, $1.10 per pound. European food was somewhat less expensive. Livestock could not be kept, except one species from the northern area, successfully introduced as animals pasturing on native grass die.

Football Meeting Here Wednesday

A special orientation meeting is scheduled Wednesday, July 31 for 10th, 11th and 12th grade boys, varsity and reserve, in preparation for the coming prep gridiron season. Coach Richard Bonifas reports. The meeting will be at 7 p. m., in the old gym.

Forest Fires Are Suppressed

The burning index is rising and rapidly reaching high burning conditions, the Conservation Department and U. S. Forest Service report. Prolonged dry weather has resulted in even green vegetation having low moisture content, increasing hazard.

A total of 425 acres of marsh in the Duck Creek area burned in a fire starting from an electrical storm July 21 and still not officially reported out, the Conservation Department reports. The area is in township 43, range 15.

The fire was extremely difficult for fire fighters as the bottom of the marsh kept giving way beneath bulldozers with units used to free mired vehicles also bogging down.

The fire was the largest of seven reported thus far this month. The next largest was 4.5 acres burning in duck on the pepper-mint farm. The smallest was .1 acre.

The U. S. Forest Service Saturday suppressed an 80-acre fire burning near Steuben, along M&L railroad track. Fire started in five places along the track ten minutes after a freight train passed and burned some young red pine plantation and some natural regeneration of pine.

Monday the Forest Service was called on a 34 acre fire along U. S. 2 near the Fishdam River. It started from a camp or beach fire.

Judith Ann Normand, John St. Juliana Wed

St. Mary's Catholic Church in Norway was the setting Saturday for the wedding of Miss Judith Ann Normand and John Leroy St. Juliana. Rev. Leno Zadra solemnized the ceremony with a nuptial high mass.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Normand, of Norway, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph St. Juliana, of Hermansville.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of pure white silk organza with long tapered sleeves and Alencon lace trimming the Sabina neckline. The skirt front was accented in lace and had an apron effect. A bouffant bustle caught the fullness of the train in back. An elbow length veil of imported silk illusion was held by a large cabbage rose and pearlized flowers. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations centered with a white orchid.

The bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Steve Normand attended as matron of honor with Barbara Bilski and Janis Normand, the bride's sister, as bridesmaids. They wore identical gowns of mint green nylon organza and matching headpieces. They carried cascade bouquets of white and mint green carnations.

Gary Johnson, a friend of the bridegroom was best man. Groomsman were Joseph Barribeau and James Schultz. Jerry Fazi, brother-in-law of the bridegroom and Steve Normand, brother of the bride, seated the guests.

Following the ceremony, a wedding brunch was served for the bridal party and immediate families.

lies at the Moose Lodge in Norway. The reception was held at the Vulcan Town Hall.

Mrs. Normand greeted guests wearing a blue silk sheath dress with white accessories. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a black and white print costume with white accessories. The mothers and grandmothers, Mrs. Lilian Benzie and Mrs. Phoebe Graves were presented with orchid corsages.

The bride is a 1960 graduate of Norway High School and is employed by Lodal Inc. Her husband graduated from Hermansville High School in 1960 and is an employee of the Furblo Co. in Hermansville.

For their wedding trip through Canada, the new Mrs. St. Juliana wore a black and white polka dot two-piece dress with matching accessories and a corsage of red and white carnations.

Local Man Given 2-Year Probation

A Gladstone man, Donald L. Hart, was placed on two-year probation by U. S. District Judge W. Wallace Kent of Kalamazoo in federal court at Marquette last Friday, after he pleaded guilty to embezzling and misapplying funds entrusted to his custody and care from the First National Bank of Gladstone.

Hart pleaded guilty to the charge on July 19. He was charged with embezzling $485 from his employer, the First National Bank of Gladstone.

GLADSTONE Memories Rated Life's True Gold

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Memories are life's true gold.

Memories are better than money. Stored in the mind, they always draw a high rate of interest. Unlike money, nobody can steal them away from you.

Chances are that you are personally wealthy in this timeless currency yourself if you can remember when—

Children envied rugs, because rugs were usually beaten only once a year.

The first thing a boy did when he got a new bicycle was turn the handlebars down so it would look like a racing bike.

A guest, after a bounteous family meal, would compliment the beaming hostess by saying, "My, you certainly put the big pot in the little one!"

Cautious mothers in small towns kept their kids in the house when a gypsy caravan rolled by.

Teen-age, would-be romances were called "drugstore cowboys." Those a little older, known as "sports," gave forth with their views on life and love at the corner barber shop or the local pool hall.

Everybody in the neighborhood felt sorry for a baby whose mother didn't breast-feed it.

You could get a thick, creamy chocolate milk shake—made with two dips of real ice cream—for 15 cents.

Everybody was careful what he said over the telephone, because you never could tell what gossip would be listening on the party line.

The only labor-saving device the average housewife had was a broom—or a helpful daughter.

During heat waves all the neighbors liked to call on the only family in the block that owned an electric fan.

The best thing about the movies was that they were silent. Many people thought that talking motion pictures—if they ever did come about—would be a nuisance.

A man who could brag he had once shaken the hand of heavyweight boxing champion John L. Sullivan could get a free drink in any saloon.

The height of high school repartee was to remark, "So's your old man." It broke 'em up every time.

Little old ladies whirled about the streets in high-seated, battery-powered motor cars that ran on hard rubber tires and contained a vase for fresh flowers.

The postman not only knocked twice—he also delivered the mail (first class letters, 2 cents) twice a day at your home.

Ah, vanished yesterdays. Remember?

Services Set For George Willis

Funeral services for 7-year-old George Willis, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Willis of Ensign, who drowned while swimming at the mouth of the Ogontz River late Sunday afternoon, will be held from the Peter Brausaw home in Ensign at 2 p. m. Wednesday. Burial will be in Indian Point Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Brausaw home after 4 p. m. today.

George Willis was born July 21, 1956 in Wisconsin.

Survivors include his parents; three sisters, June Mary, Mary Kay and Shirley May, all at home; his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Mary Willis of Gladstone; and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Mary Bosinske of Cadott, Wis.

Munising Hospital Gets $55,700 Aid From Kellogg

A $55,700 grant from the W. K. Kellogg Foundation has been received by the Munising Memorial Hospital Association, announces Charles Chevette, president of the Board of Trustees.

The grant will make it possible for the hospital to offer many additional services and conduct research in problems unique to small hospitals in rural areas. New services that will be made possible by the grant are occupational therapy, rehabilitative nursing and medical social service. The hospital's present physical therapy service will be greatly expanded.

It is anticipated that multiple screening programs and evaluation clinics will be offered in cooperation with the Munising Memorial Hospital Medical Staff, the Alger County Health Department, and the Michigan Department of Health. The new services provided by the grant, along with the Alger County Home Nursing Project started in December of 1962 by the U. S. Public Health Service, the Michigan Department of Health, and the Alger County Health Department, will make it possible to offer the community a comprehensive home care program.

Chevette explained that the hospital has been cooperating closely with the Home Nursing Project in fulfilling one of the hospital's objectives of promoting the general health and welfare of the residents in the service area.

The grant, which is divided over a three year period, provides money for new services, study and evaluation and new equipment. The Bureau of Hospital Administration of the University of Michigan will assist with the research portions of the program. Richard Wagner, hospital administrator, will be project coordinator for the grant. Applications are now being received for the position of part-time medical director and other full and part time personnel.

Records Broken In GM Earnings

NEW YORK (AP) — General Motors Corp. made $5.1 million a day in April, May and June, Saturdays and Sundays included.

GM, and probably no other business concern, ever made it faster.

The No. 1 automaker and world's largest industrial corporation set eight sales and earnings records, in the second quarter.

Board Chairman Frederic G. Donner and President John F. Gordon said the "excellent" second quarter results reflected continued high demand for GM's automotive and non-automotive products and highs in national employment and personal income.

Profits soared to $464 million, GM said Monday in reporting to stockholders on this spring's unprecedented auto boom.

Earnings were higher at $497 million in the last three months of 1962. But that included $73.5 million from sale of GM's interest in Ethyl Corp. last November.

In this department, too, GM seemed headed for a full year high.

The target figures were the $1,459,000,000 in earnings and $14,640,000,000 in sales recorded in 1962 by GM, highs unequalled by any manufacturing corporation.

Second quarter net income came to $1.62 a share of common stock. The comparable sum in the fourth quarter of 1962 was $1.55, after deduction of 19 cents a share owing to the Ethyl transaction.

World wide factory sales in the second quarter totaled 16,646,747, including 1,143,952 passenger cars and 149,775 trucks and coaches produced in the U. S. A U. S. vehicle total of 1,293,727.

Of the 353,026 vehicles produced outside the U. S., 96,852 were made in Canada.

Excluding the Ethyl Corp. sale GM's fourth quarter operations netted $424 million, highest for any three months until the period ended June 30.

Mr. and Mrs. David Swanson of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Almn of Bad Axe have been visiting with Mrs. Swanson's daughters, Mrs. John Healy and Mrs. William Rogers.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Butch of Appleton, Wis., has returned home after visiting with relatives in Gladstone. Michael Reimer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Reimer, 413 Wisconsin Ave., will go to Chicago with them.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Vogt, 1218 Dakota Ave., are vacationing in Mankato, Minn., with Ada and Peter Odden.

With Great Lakes waters down to their lowest levels in about 30 years, Michigan shoreline owners have "temporarily" acquired a sizeable chunk of bottom lands. For the time being, they have a "moving freehold" title to lands that lie exposed below the ordinary high-water mark. This gives them the right to dredge channels, build such structures as docks, and make other improvements on the exposed bottom lands — as long as these developments will not keep waters from returning to their natural levels. Since this title remains subject to the public trust, come low or high water, permits must be obtained from the Conservation Department and U. S. Corps of Engineers before changes may be started.

Right And Wrong Methods Told In Shoreline Changes

While the United States and Russia work feverishly to beat each other to the moon, a "space race" of great down-to-earth importance is building up momentum in Michigan — along the state's inland lakes and streams, the Great Lakes and their connecting waters.

It's the race for shoreline frontage to meet commercial, residential, industrial, and recreational demands which have grown like Topsy in recent years, the Conservation Department reports.

For lack of a standard "rule-book" to keep things progressing in an orderly manner, this scramble for space has churned up many problems and much confusion over who holds what rights in and along the state's waterways.

Public And Private

Here are but a few cases in point: Shoreline owners fill out into a lake to "get closer to the water," and in so doing overstep their rights and often damage valuable habitat for fish and game. Port and navigation projects are among important economic developments, but because of conflicting interests and confusion over water rights, some have unfortunately been brought to a halt.

Docks for pleasure boating sometimes run into similar snags. All of these cross currents are magnified in metropolitan areas where unplanned development and obsolete or wasted waterfronts threaten to destroy the very waters which brought people to their shores.

More often than not, the so-called "common law" is the only legal "leg" that an individual, hunter, fisherman, or property owner has to stand on when he tries to correct a wrong against his water rights. And this law many times does not provide the complaining party with solid footing to defend his rights; it bends this way and that in trying to settle all the unprecedented, varying questions which arise.

What Michigan needs badly are a number of new statutory guidelines that will stop the present hodge-podge pattern of shoreline changes so its broad spectrum of water-use demands can be met through orderly planning and development, according to conservation officials. Such laws would clearly spell out the extent of private and public rights in all waters.

These new laws would, among other things, account for: The urgent need of terminal docking facilities on the St. Lawrence Seaway route; the tremendous demands of pleasure boaters for docking facilities; the need for protecting values of summer homes, year-around residences, and resorts; the importance of wildlife habitat and the sport it provides; and the scenic values of the state's waterways.

To this end, the Conservation Commission and Department will recommend that legislation covering inland waters be passed in 1964 to: a) Define the public trust and its scope of authority. b) Regulate construction and use of marinas. c) Insure closer coordination among local, state, and federal agencies. d) Regulate fills, dredging, and disposal of spoils.

e) Establish bulkhead lines for commercial and industrial developments. f) Provide for straightening of irregular shorelines where flood, drainage, erosion, and sanitation problems exist. g) Permit the Department to develop habitat improvements and make other changes that will increase recreational use of public waters.

Amendments will also be sought to an existing act which applies to Great Lakes submerged lands and waters. These would: a) Clarify the public trust area. b) Provide for beach improvements in front of residential and park developments. c) Allow the Department to carry out habitat improvements on state-owned bottom lands, with authority to make agreements with local units of government and riparian owners for these projects.

Ann Landers

No Real Friends

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 15 years old and already a flop. I have no real friends although a lot of people pretend to like me. I get invited places but only because people feel sorry for me.

I have a fair figure and my mother says I can buy all the clothes I want, but my taste is terrible. I hate to shop because the clothes I go crazy over in the store look awful when I get them home.

I can't do anything well because I'm a clumsy cow. I'm a lousy tennis player. I can't swim, and I hate to dance. My voice is so screechy the choir teacher has asked me to just move my lips and not try to sing with the others.

I always say the wrong thing and laugh at the wrong time. Please help me before I start high school in September. — MISS NOTHING

Dear Miss: Those who think TOO well of themselves are a pain in the neck. Your problem is the reverse and equally unattractive. It's a drag to hear people forever running themselves into the ground. Among other things it indicates that they think people are paying more attention to them than they actually are.

Get out of the habit of tuning in on yourself 100 times a day. Turn your thoughts outward—toward others. After having done your best—whether it's tennis, swimming or whatever—forget your inadequacies and concentrate on something else.

Dear Ann Landers: You might call this letter "A Warning To Widows: Stay In Your Own Home."

My husband died four months ago and my daughter and son-in-law insisted that I sell my home and come live with them. I was grief-stricken, lonely and confused when I said "Yes." It was the biggest mistake I ever made.

My house is gone, my furniture is gone and I'm a guest in someone else's home. My teenage grandchildren are disrespectful and make me feel as if I am in the way. To hear them talk I wonder how I could have lived so long and learned so little.

I was once a friendly, pleasant person but now I feel like a useless, sour old woman. I gave up everything dear to me and I really didn't have to. Please tell other widows to stay where they are—even if it's a single room. I wish I had—NOT HAPPY.

Dear Not Happy: If you feel a single room would be better why don't you find one?

Some mistakes are beyond repair but this one can be remedied and I hope you do it promptly.

Dear Ann Landers: My cousin is getting married in August and I've been asked to be an usher. Linda, the girl I'm going with, doesn't know the bride or the groom except casually. She put a lot of heat on me to get her invited to the wedding and the reception so I did.

Last night Linda asked me what I was doing the Friday before the wedding. I told her I Fight fans, who haven't had their blood stirred up since the golden gloves tourney last spring, are in for some thrills and chills some time around Labor Day, if everything goes according to the plans of Pete Bosanic and his manager Richard Ludwig.

Ludwig is investigating the possibilities of staging a fight card in Escanaba, probably on the 30th or 31st of August. The main attraction would be Pete Bosanic, the pride of Manistique and the entire Upper Peninsula. An opponent has not been named yet but Ludwig said he is working on that angle.

Ludwig said yesterday that he and Pete would be in Escanaba the morning of Aug. 5 when they would attempt to iron out the details for the fights, which Ludwig promised to the area fans last spring when Bosanic turned professional. Details of where it would be staged are yet to be completed, but the gymnasium of the Escanaba Area High School is certainly a possibility. The new gym would hold three to four thousand fans.

Bosanic, who turned pro last spring has belted his way through six fights, winning all of them, the last three on technical knockouts. He stopped Chuck Smith of Cleveland on June 1, in three rounds, and on July 20 Pete earned a TKO over Joe Watts, a highly regarded fighter from Lansing.

Pete will fight Aug. 14 in a preliminary to the Henry King-Jimmy Ellis fight in Lexington, Ky., and then will go to Saginaw on Aug. 19 to fight a preliminary to the Kenny Lane-Paul Armstrong championship fight.

Dick Brown Homers In 9th, Bombs Gem Of Tiger Rookie

BALTIMORE (AP)—Detroit Tiger rookie pitcher Mickey Lolich gave up just three hits Monday night, but a former Tiger and former Michigan State star Robin Roberts kept him from winning the game.

The former Tiger was Dick Brown, who belted a Lolich pitch over the left field fence with two outs in the ninth inning, giving the Baltimore Orioles a 2-1 victory.

Roberts, veteran righthander, scattered two Tiger hits — allowing one in the first inning and one in the ninth. Dick McAuliffe had both of them.

Lolich, completing his fourth game in 11 starts, had given up only one hit before the ninth inning, then, with one out, Al

Norm Dahlke Sets Sportsmen's Record Of 49 In 50 Skeets

It might have been a regular skeet shooting affair for the Delta County Sportsmen's Club last night, but the shooting of Norm Dahlke was not so usual or regular, as the average skeet shooter goes. Norm splattered 44 straight clay targets, missed one (it was getting dark) and then got the remaining five to log a fantastic 49 of 50. This gave Dahlke the Club record, which was eight better than Rollie Byam's 41, shot years ago here.

Other shooters bagged scores that would be acceptable in most matches. They were Sy Severinsen with 24 and Jack Whitney and Julius Kallman with 21 each.

Road-Loss Record Up Tonight For NY Mets

LOS ANGELES (AP) — All they have to do is lose tonight and the New York Mets will be able to speak of road disasters with as much authority as the National Safety Council.

If they can keep from beating the Los Angeles Dodgers — and they have had virtually no trouble in this respect before — the Mets will set an all-time major league record for consecutive losses on the road.

They have already lost 22. That ties the record established by Pittsburgh in 1890, during the administration of Benjamin Harrison.

The Mets set a modern major league record for uninterrupted failure when they suffered their 20th consecutive defeat on the road at Houston last Friday.

The Mets haven't won a game away from the Polo Grounds since June 15, when they beat the Reds at Cincinnati. They accumulated five consecutive losses later on that trip, lost seven on their next trip and have dropped 10 on their present excursion.

Tracy Stallard, who delivered the pitch that Roger Maris hit for his record-breaking 61st home run in 1961, will try to avoid involvement in another unwanted record tonight. Stallard (3-9) will start for New York against Bob Miller (7-6), who pitched for the Mets in 1962.

Girls Softball

In league action over the weekend the State Bankers won their 11th straight game by defeating the Crusaders 9-5. Diane Creten got the Crusaders out in front in the first inning when she hit a two-run homer, but the State Bank came up with a six-run fourth inning to ice the contest.

Swanie's Jugs won their first game of the season Saturday night when they overpowered the Garden Jets at Garden, 21-14. Janet Bell lead the Jugs with 3-for-6.

Horlan's No-Hitter Spoiled In Ninth, Loses Game 2-1

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Heartbreaking losses for a pair of youngsters and a touch of luck for a veteran. It was that kind of a night on the American League pitching scene Monday.

Joel Horlan of the Chicago White Sox had his brilliant try for a no-hitter—and victory—spoiled in the last of the ninth at Washington. Chuck Hinton's single with one out was the first Senator hit off the 25-year-old right-hander, recalled from the minors last week. Then Don Lock's two-out homer pinned Horlan with a 2-1 loss.

At Baltimore, rookie Mickey Lolich of the Detroit Tigers held the Orioles to one single through eight innings but in the ninth Al Smith singled with one away and one out later, pinch batter Dick Brown smashed a homer and Baltimore won 2-1.

Old-timer Robin Roberts got the victory with a two-hit performance.

At Cleveland, Dean Chance of

Marquette Loses 10-5 In Babe Ruth State Tourney

PORT HURON (AP) — Michigan's Babe Ruth Baseball Tournament for youngsters was stripped down to four survivors today and all were in action.

The only undefeated teams, Algonac and Garden City West, met in one contest and Ypsilanti Americans and Northwest Detroit, each once defeated, played in a second game.

Northwest Detroit eliminated Marquette 10-5 while Ypsilanti ousted Benton Harbor 8-6 Monday in the two-defeats-and-out tournament.

Pitcher Bob Allen and Tom Rae hit home runs for Northwest Detroit in a seven-run first inning for the victors. Dick Peterson hit a two-run triple when Marquette rallied in the sixth to score all its runs.

Bill Wales, Al Kelley and Ed Northrup homered for Ypsilanti and Ron Zuhl for Benton Harbor.

Moss Passes Test On Scooter Driving

LONDON (AP) — British auto race driver Stirling Moss finally passed his test Monday to drive a scooter after flunking it the first time last month.

Roberts allowed one Tiger hit in the first and one in the ninth, walked two and hit a batter. The only run off the 36-year-old right-hander was unearned.

Fred Whitfield broke up Chance's no-hit bid with two out in the seventh when he looped a single to center. Woodie Held singled in the eighth for Cleveland's other hit. The big right-hander walked three and struck out 12.

The Angels pounded five Cleveland pitchers for 14 hits, getting six in their eight-run burst against loser Dick Donovan and Jerry Walker.

Babe Ruth Action Ends For Season With Today's Game

The Escanaba Elk's Club, behind the three-hit pitching of Dick Niemi and Charles Dube, defeated Insurance Association 11-3 in Babe Ruth action last night.

Neimi worked the first four innings, giving up three runs on two hits and three walks, and striking out four batters.

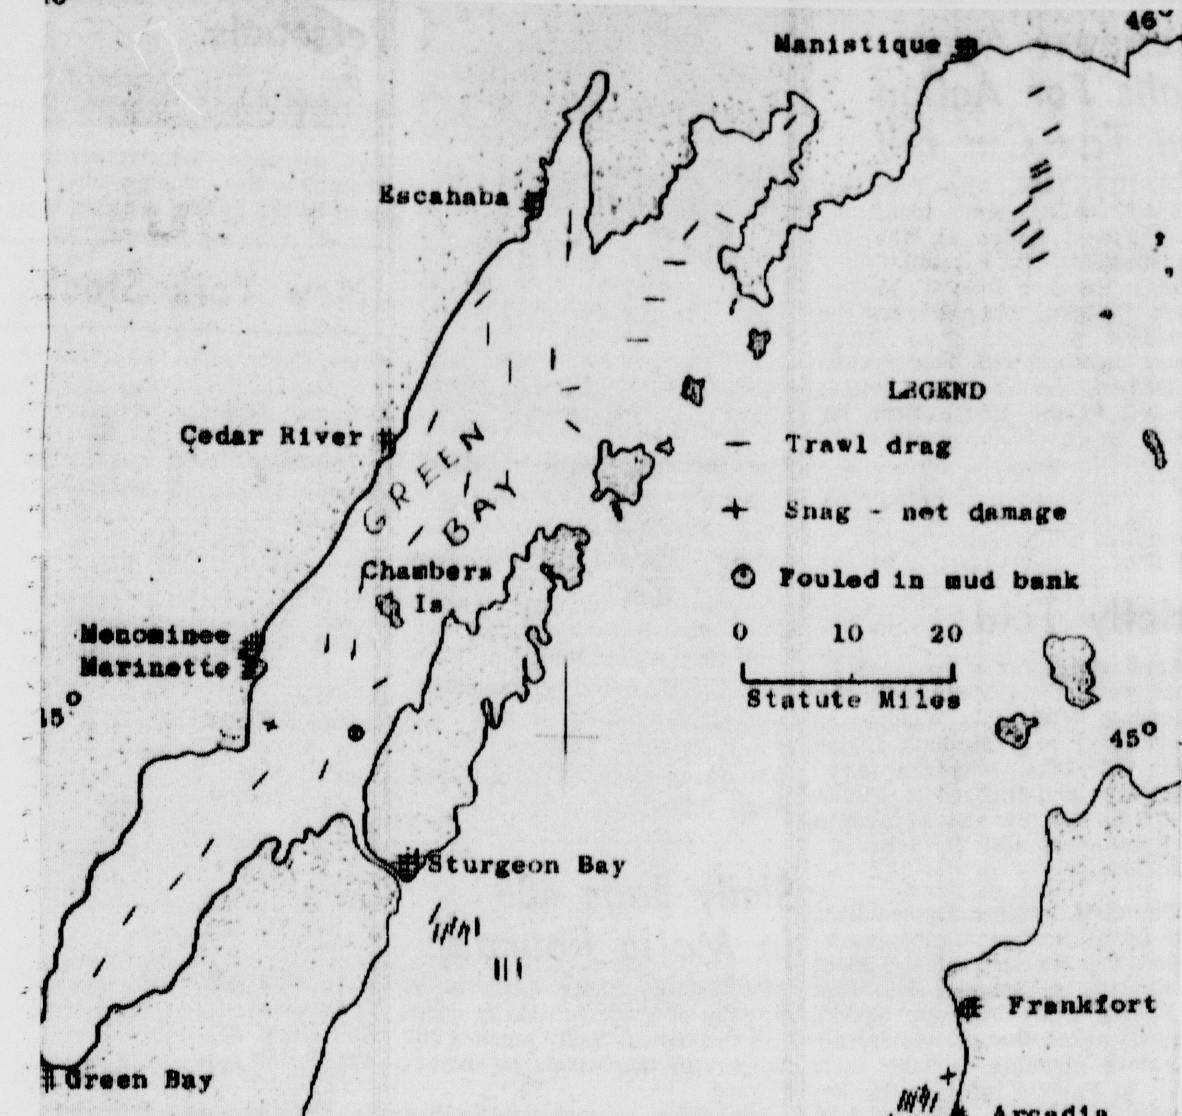

Dube worked the last three innings, allowing only one hit and one walk. He held the Insurance team scoreless the three innings he worked on the hill. Neimi was credited with the win.

Outstanding hitters for the Elks were John LaRue and Mike Olson with two singles each. John Stacey hit a double with two men on and Neimi a bases-loaded single.

For Insurance Mike Kangas and Jerry Wilkes combined on the hill, giving up ten hits, four walks and they had four strike-outs. Dave Breault banged out two singles for Insurance to lead his teammates at the plate.

Tonight at 6:15 Harni Local 632 meets the Bankers in the last game of the Babe Ruth season.

Lake Trawling Hints Commercial Alewife Harvest

Experimental trawling operations in Green Bay and northern Lake Michigan this month may prove important in developing methods for using the alewife fish which has become so abundant that it's a nuisance in these waters, reports the U. S. Bureau of Commercial Fisheries.

The trawling by the research vessel Cisco of the Bureau of Fisheries from July 2 to 15 showed:

1. A generous amount of obstruction-free trawling grounds in both Green Bay and northern Lake Michigan.
2. The total or near total absence of yellow perch, whitefish and walleye pike in the trawl catches.
3. Nearly straight alewife catches in the trawls.

The ability of the trawlers to restrict their catch almost exclusively to alewife encourages fishermen to believe that commercial harvests of these small fish can be made to reduce their numbers in the management of Great Lakes waters in this area for the production of better fish.

The alewife, like the notorious sea lamprey, is a Great Lakes invader from the Atlantic Ocean.

Commercial Production

Green Bay pound net fishermen at Cedar River and Menominee have produced several million pounds of alewife for animal food markets in the past year or two, but pound net fishing has been effective only when the fish are in relatively shallow inshore waters. Trawling could make it possible for fishermen to follow alewife into deeper waters and to extend the present season of production from the few weeks in which they can be caught at present to as long as 9 or 10 months. Commercial trawlers have accomplished this objective in southern Lake Michigan since 1959.

Such an extension of the production period helps handlers to process and market the catch in a more orderly and economical manner.

The Bureau of Fisheries has done experimental trawling in Lake Michigan since 1960 and the research vessel Cisco has used trawls for sampling Great Lakes fish populations since 1954. Assessment of the trawl method of commercial fishing in northern Lake Michigan was initiated in April of this year after earlier work in lake waters below Ludington and Algoma.

Lake Harvest

Working with Michigan and Wisconsin state conservation departments, the Bureau has helped establish a trawl fishery in southern Lake Michigan which has produced 7 to 8.7 million pounds of fish in each of the last three years. The trawl catch amounted to about 34 per cent of the total Lake Michigan commercial fish production in 1961.

At certain times of the year trawlers catch as much as 9 tons of alewife in a single drag lasting only 10 to 30 minutes. State fisheries agencies keep the trawling operations under inspection to see their effect on other species of fish than alewife and bloater chubs, which are so plentiful. Thus far other species, mostly large chubs, have made up less than 10 per cent of the Lake Michigan trawl catch.

Trawl catches were composed of virtually only alewife in all depths in Green Bay, while bloater chubs, at depths of 15 to 50 fathoms, and freshwater sculpins, at depths of 60 to 80 fathoms dominated catches in Lake Michigan. Although catches off Sturgeon Bay, Wis., and Manistique were relatively small, the bottom was found suitable for trawling and it is presumed that trawl fishing in these areas will be better at other times.

Commercially significant catches of alewife were taken in Green Bay only. Lake Michigan yielded commercially significant catches of bloater chubs. Best catches off Manistique were 90 pounds of alewife, 90 pounds of smelt and 103 pounds of chubs at 10, 15 and 50 fathoms, respectively.

When Walt Disney presented his first television programs about the pioneer nine years ago, small fry everywhere blossomed forth in conklin caps and for a time put cowboy and cops and robbers games in retirement.
NBC, whose network started the craze, sagely waited four years—until 1958—to repeat the shows. That was time enough for a new crop of fans. NBC will rerun Crockett shows on three successive Sunday nights starting Sept. 8. This time they may be seen in color.
Davy is played by Fess Parker. NBC has signed Kathie Browne for six episodes of "Bonanza." Object: matrimony with Adam Cartwright if scripts and public reaction go well. "Glynis," CBS' forthcoming comedy series starring Glynis Johns, concerns an attorney and his mystery-writer wife who constantly run into to whom situations.
A three-hour study of integration problems will preempt NBC Labor Day evening programs—the first news program of such length and magnitude in network history.

Old Log Drive Pictures Needed

Pictures of old-time logging drives in the Manistique area are needed—pronto—by the Top O' Lake Michigan Chamber of Commerce. The pictures are needed for an NBC TV program on U. P. history scheduled Aug. 9. Carl Garves, C-C secretary reports. The pictures will be returned.

Bar Will Ease Racial Tensions In State Program

MACKINAC ISLAND—Michigan's 9,300 lawyers were asked today by their ruling body, the State Bar of Michigan, to devote their talents and energies to the easing of the racial crisis.

The annual Upper Peninsula meeting of the board of commissioners of the State Bar approved an eight-point resolution calling for concerted action on the part of the membership to the end of relieving strained relations. Michigan thus became the first bar in the nation to take formal action in the matter.

The resolution calls for the appointment of a committee of members of the State Bar to evolve and develop a continuing program designed to bring about steady improvement in the situation. Among other responsibilities, some of the specific functions of the committee will be:

1. To assist the establishment of local governmental human relations committees.
2. To provide for volunteer professional services to civic organizations dealing with civil rights problems.
3. To assist and cooperate with national, state, or local officials and agencies in programs or specific actions designed to protect civil rights and to maintain law and order.

4. To urge respect for the judiciary and the legal process and to refute irresponsible and erroneous legal commentary.
5. To encourage the 75 bar associations throughout Michigan in the formation of civil rights committees to implement these resolutions.

6. To cooperate with and assist the lawyers committee for civil rights under law.
7. To encourage and develop programs which will assure that adequate legal representation is available in cases affecting civil rights.

8. To assist in establishing fact-finding, conciliation, and arbitration services in connection with situations involving civil rights problems.
9. To compose and implement a plan which Michigan lawyers will be inspired to furnish their professional services in the defense of clients wherever, by reason of intimidation, harassment or threat of disbarment of our brother lawyers, adequate local legal representation is unavailable.

Giant wood arches and steel rods soar above the ground to support the roof over what will be the bowling alley section of the Holiday Bowl. Roy Ness of Escanaba is general contractor. Bowling alleys, billiard rooms, cocktail lounge, nursery and other features will distinguish the Holiday Bowl.

Bloodmobile To Take Donations For Heart Case

Five donations of A negative blood will be drawn from donors at the visit of the Badger Blood Bank bloodmobile to Escanaba on Wednesday, Aug. 7 to supply the needs for heart surgery the next day on a 50-year-old woman.

The bloodmobile will visit Gladstone and Escanaba for three days next week to get 345 donations of blood to meet the big drain on the blood bank from its supply of the Delta County area's needs in surgery, injury and other health emergencies.

Mrs. Edward C. Olsen, Delta County Red Cross Chapter blood program chairman, reports that from July 1962 to this July, 765 pints (donations) of blood were administered at St. Francis Hospital in Escanaba and 183 pints were administered in other hospitals to Delta County patients and replaced by the Delta County blood bank.

This is a total of 948 pints of blood, and 1,105 pints were collected through four quarterly visits like next week's and emergency drawing of blood at St. Francis Hospital. The Delta Red Cross Chapter's quota of 1,380 pints for the blood bank was not met in this period.

The bloodmobile will be at the Jones School, Gladstone on Tuesday, Aug. 6 from 3 to 7 with a quota of 97 donations and at Escanaba Area High School from 2:30 to 7:30 Wednesday, Aug. 7 and from 10 to 3 on Thursday, Aug. 8. The donors of A negative blood for the heart surgery on Wednesday must never have received a blood transfusion, never have been pregnant and be free of allergies.

Workers at the bloodmobile are all volunteers. The doctors, nurses (with exception of those who travel with the unit to do the actual vein puncture), the grey ladies, typists, receptionists, movers and canteen workers are all unpaid volunteers.

For next week's visit of the bloodmobile the canteen will be handled by women of Central Methodist Church.

Phone the Red Cross, ST 6-3214 to register as a donor, or walk in at the schools to give blood. A serious shortage of blood usually occurs in the blood bank in July because so many donors are on vacation, so donations are specially needed, said Mrs. Olsen.

Food Distribution Site Recommended For Detroit Area

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department recommended today that Detroit build a new wholesale food distribution center.

It estimated the cost would run between $53 million and $83 million, depending on the site and other factors.

A department study said Detroit's facilities for handling fruits, vegetables, meat and meat products, poultry, dairy products and eggs, frozen foods and fish and seafood are inefficient and outmoded.

The study is similar to others made in recent years for other metropolitan areas. The studies are intended to increase the efficiency of these food markets for the benefit of both producers and consumers but do not carry any federal funds for carrying out the recommendations.

Dow Reports New High In Profits

MIDLAND (AP)—Dow Chemical Co. today reported a new half-year high in net profits — $42.4 million for the first six months of this year, equivalent to $1.43 per common share.

For the same period last year, Dow reported profits of $36.3 million, or $1.25 per share.

Dow's 1963 first-half sales reached a record high of $470.2 million, a jump from the $461.8 recorded in the same period last year.

Newberry City Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Surrall and family who have been visiting the former's parents Dr. and Mrs. M. A. Surrall, left Saturday for their home in Elyria, Ohio. Their daughter Rebecca Susan remained with her grandparents for a longer visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kropp, Jr. and family of Lapeer returned down state Monday, where they are employed, after being here several days.

Recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dishaw were the latter's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Leibecke of Midland, and cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Robert DeCarlo of Detroit. The DeCarlos returned to Detroit Sunday, accompanied by Mrs. Marge Dishaw, who will enter Ford Hospital for a medical check-up.

Peter Miller went to Petoskey Sunday to enter Little Traverse Hospital where he anticipates undergoing surgery this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Long of Ponoka, Alberta called to see their uncle, James Cairns, while passing through here Saturday, while vacationing.

Hospital

Admissions over the weekend and Monday to the Tahquamenon Hospital were Dorothy Sindlar, Robert Barton of Rockwood, Mich., Neil Gallagher, Mildred Kettle, Helga Flower, Gordon Bosley, and Phineas Walsh of McMillan.

Briefly Told

Ronnie K. Leveille, 22 of Enid was given a summons for reckless driving Saturday at 1 a. m. after his car went into a ditch off of the McKelvey road in Gardfield Township, Mackinac County. State Police report that Leveille went to sleep at the wheel, his car crossed the road and took down 40 feet of barbed wire, as it went into the ditch on the south side of the road.

Tickets were issued to George N. Shelly of Galesburg, no valid license plates on his trailer; Michael Nedou of Cooks, for defective muffler; William Bennett, Newberry, defective equipment on his truck; Gerald Betterly, Newberry, going 90 mph in a 50 mph zone; Richard Harju, Son, Mich., for improper passing; John Carlson, failure to stop at a stop sign.

Youth Admits Burglaries

Thomas O. Dawson, 19, of Rte. 1, Escanaba, was bound over to Circuit Court after he pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking and entering in the nighttime, when arraigned before Justice A. J. Mortier in Gladstone Monday.

Dawson was arrested by sheriff's officers last Saturday in connection with several burglaries in the area and gas larcenies. Officers said he admitted entering the P&H Rod & Gun Club at Danforth twice since last May, the burglary of the Hilltop Drive-In and several gas larcenies.

Sheriff Cully Johnson said Dawson also admitted attempting to break into the Frank Lindenthal residence at Danforth. Bond was set at $500. The bond for Dawson was posted and he was released pending arraignment in Circuit Court.

Wage Pact Gives Free Underwear

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The new 3-year contract signed by the International Brotherhood of Teamsters at a local firm guarantees each member one free suit of insulated underwear a year.

The members, who also got a pay increase, work for the Merchants Ice and Cold Storage Co.

President Again Calls For Action On Tax Cut Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy called again today for congressional action on the administration's tax cut bill.

House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., told reporters the President stressed, at a White House meeting with congressional leaders, the need for getting the bill to the House floor for debate an enactment at the earliest possible date.

McCormack said he was hopeful the House Ways and Means Committee would send the bill to the floor.

Briefly Told

Applications for a marriage license were made Monday by the following: William L. Waldron of Rapid River and Elizabeth J. LaCroix of 1622 Michigan Ave., Gladstone; and Richard H. Finlan of 918 S. 14th St. and Antoinette J. Rabitoy of 602 N. 11th St., Gladstone.

The Civil Defense Reserve boat will escort boatsmen planning to attend the Blessing of the Fleet at Fayette on Sunday, according to Sheriff Cully Johnson. Sheriff Johnson asked that all watercraft operators planning to take their boats to Fayette meet at the Escanaba Yacht Club prior to 8:30 a.m. Sunday when the trip will get underway. The Rescue Boat will also escort boaters on the return trip.

Pvt. James A. Sovey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sovey of 1310 2nd Ave. S., recently completed his eight-week basic training course at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. Sovey attended Holy Name High School.

Sicily Jails 400 In Mafia Roundup

PALERMO, Sicily (AP) — A roundup of suspected Mafia members throughout Sicily reached 400 today with the arrests of another 60 men.

The drive against the Sicilian underworld society was touched off by the slaughter of seven policemen, killed June 30 in a booby-trapped car.

Personals

Summer means extra earnings for the younger set... teach them to save!

Summer vacation may mean that the youngsters in your family will have extra jobs, extra earnings. Help them to learn the lesson of thrift. Encourage them to save a little of what they earn for future needs. Help them to establish some goals. It's more fun to save for something special. . .

We at First National are interested in being as helpful as possible. We have set aside a special Junior Savings Department just for these youngsters. Every Junior Saver is automatically enrolled in the Junior Banker Club, which has many events throughout the year. A Dollar will open an account.
